Several times a year, or when ever the waste water runs away slowly from the kitchen sink, washubs or other plumbing, the pipes should be well flushed with boiling water, to cut the grease. That should be followed by a strong solution of caustic potash (lye) or caustic soda. Half an hour later the pipes should be flushed again with clear, boiling water.

Mock duck is a palatable, inexpensive, baked meat. It really is a flank steak stuffed with a bread crumb dressing, rolled, tied and baked. The meat is rolled lengthacross the muscle.

Milk, vegetables and fruit are most helpful in increasing what physicians call alkaline reserve in the human system. Most of these are acid when eaten, but this acid is in a form which is burned in the body and releases the alkaline substances held in combination. Bananas are especially valuable for increasing the alkaline reserve.

In very dry sum-mer weather it has perhaps three times the salinity of the gulf, causing fish to go blind and die. Even with recent rains to freshen it a small per cent of fish seined near Baffins Bay and also in the upper end were blind. There is a strong demand that a channel be cut through Padre Island to admit the fresher gulf water. Nearly hair the fish caught in the Texas bays come from Lagunda Madre, and that such channel would be of immense value is generally admitted. The legislature has passed a resolution recommending that such a pass be opened, but engineers contend that such a channel would soon be choked by shifting sands. Commissioner Tucker will visit the laguna and make a study of conditions at the earliest opportunity.
